When the Carl Sandburg high school board has its regular meeting next Monday night it is expected to set the machinery in motion for a referendum on a bond issue to build an addition to the present school plant in order to provide room for a steadily growing student population.

At a special meeting of the board held Monday night of this week and attended by representatives of various groups and organizations in the district, the consensus of opinion expressed favored the building program as the only solution for the school's problem.

The amount needed to finance the program was not definitely set this week but it was believed that the bond issue might run to approximately $750,000, and Nov. 19 was offered as a tentative date for the referendum.

This is the same date as that set by the Bremen township high school board for its referendum on a bond issue to finance an addition to that school.

Prospective Returns Should Cover Costs

Returns from cattle feeding next year may be about average. Average returns are just about equal to costs of feed, labor, interest and overhead.

Recent prices of stockers and feeders ranged from about $14 to $22 a hundred pounds, depending on quality, age and condition. Costs of gains will be about $15 to $24 a hundred pounds on most farms. These costs are based on corn at $1.20 to $1.30 a bushel. They will run lower only where cheap roughage makes up most of the ration.

That Columbus! He Discovered New Foods as well as Lands

the map of the world—he also is responsible for revolutionizing its eating habits.

Before Columbus, for example, the Irish had no "Irish" potatoes. Italian sauces were cooked without tomatoes.

"Extraordinary as it may seem," said a spokesman for the research department of the American Can Co., "such vegetables in common world-wide use today as tomatoes, potatoes, string beans and sweet corn were unknown to civilized man before the Americas were opened up for exploration."

These native American foods, in addition to being staples on everybody's dinner table, today are the source of about $719,427,000 in annual income to U. S. farmers, he explained.

Illinois farmers received some $10 million last year from production of their tomato and corn crops. Of this amount, about $8.3 million worth was sold to processors, the spokesman said.

The tomato, which was discovered in South and Central America, has become such an integral part of the average American diet that last year the government purchased more than 76 million pounds of canned tomatoes and tomato products for use by the armed forces.

Agricultural 4-H leaders of will County met Oct. 5 at the Farm Bureau building to discuss rules and plans for the 1956 club year. As a result of this meeting the following changes and additions were made:

July 10 is the deadline for this deadline will be enforced.

Horses have been dropped as a project in Will County.

An exhibitor must enroll in one major or two minor projects to be considered a bona fide 4-H member.

A list of the major and minor projects appears in the September issue of the 4-H'er and will also appear in the Rules and Regulations booklet.

Poultry and rabbit exhibitors must be present at the time his class is being judged or the judge will not place the exhibit.

Tractor Maintenance, soil improvement and soil conservation projects will be exhibited at the Fall Crop Show in 1956.

Another change is the addition of a new championship class for exhibitors 15 years and under. This means that there will be two classes, junior and senior.

The rabbit project has been changed so that it is required that an exhibitor own and care for one buck and 5 does.

In the handicraft show an exhibitor must show at least two but not more than three articles for one entry and one premium.

If additional information or queries are necessary contact J.

K. Bailey, Assistant Farm Adviser at Joliet.

4-H Projects Changes Listed

Something new has been added to 4-H for Will County. A Market Lamb Show is to be held the first week of June, 1956 to give 4-H'ers a chance to exhibit and market their fat lambs at the time of their prime condition. In addition to this beef steers are to be tattooed for the coming year by January 15.

Illinois ranks third among coal producing states in the nation and its production since 1800 of 3.3 billion tons is equal to 12.4 per cent of the 27.2 billion tons mined in the country as a whole in the past 154 years.

SANDBURG HIGH

overcrowding are not confined to this district by any means.

They are common thruout the state, and as far as facts and figures are concerned, the problems are national in scope.

Educators do not see any immediate relief in sight. Reduced to simple terms, the birth rate has been rising steadily for several years and the trend is still upward.

Supt. Fisher quoted from a recent booklet published by Vernon L. Nickell, state superintendent of public instruction.

Nickell said that the present school population, high school and college, is expected to almost double in the next 10 years. Elementary enrollments have increased, he continued, to the point where facilities are inadequate to care for them and will continue to grow beyond earlier expectations.

"The high birth rates in the post war period," Nickell says, "rather than declining as was expected have actually increased, so that more children were born in Illinois in 1954 than in any previous year in history, and records thru September, 1955, indicate that this year will surpass all others."

Other Factors

Supt. Fisher commented that if all other factors remained constant the increased birth rate alone would bring an additional 700 students to Carl Sandburg by 1955.

"However," Fisher continued, "in our suburban area two factors of extreme importance have a tremendous impact on the school enrollment. The first of these is the drop out rate... the second factor is in the form of transfer students."

It should be explained that "drop out" is the term used to describe those students who quit high school before graduation. Normally, it was said, the drop out rate nationally is about 50 per cent, due largely, perhaps, to the great number who fail to finish high school in the south and in congested areas where poverty takes a toll.

But this drop-out rate is being sharply reduced and in the Sandburg district this is particularly true, it was said.

The second factor, dealing with transfer students, is also having a tremendous effect on enrollments in the Sandburg area. Last year more than 1,500 building permits of various kinds were issued in Palos township areas. The number of new homes is steadily increasing and new homes means new families and more children, it was emphasized. Add the new students via transfer to the increasing number of students that are remaining in high school, plus the increase in births and one comes to the crux of Sandburg's problem, it was pointed out.

No More Room

Supt. Fisher said that in all probability 125 to 200 students should be added to the potential enrollment of Sandburg every year after next year.

When next September rolls around it is expected that Sandburg will have between 850 and 900 students, and there just isn't room there for that many, Supt. Fisher said. Therefore, it will be necessary to use some sort of split shift arrangement, as was announced previously. It has been tentatively agreed that half of the students will come to school at 7:30 and go home at 3 while the others will report at 9 a.m. and go home at 4:30, but between 9 and 3 the congestion will be terrific.

"This year," said Supt. Fisher, "more than 20 classes have more than 30 students with some classes already approaching the 40 mark. When a teacher has that kind of a load, the effectiveness of that teacher is hampered."

Assessed Valuation Up

Outlined as needed in the proposed addition is a girls' gym, additional locker space, more space for advanced science classes, more classrooms, more space for counseling work, store and book store space, more space for the music department, more space for shop classes including those teaching vocational agriculture and printing.

Ganster and Honninghausen are the architects that built the original plant and they will be retained to develop plans for the proposed addition.

Just what an addition would mean to the average tax bill will be figured out and announced after the board determines the size of the proposed bond issue. And speaking of taxes, the assessed valuation of the district has more than doubled since 1947. Figures show that eight years ago the assessed valuation was $15,761,545, while the assessed valuation for 1955 is $35 million.

Farm Outlook

Feed Costs. Prices of feed are lower than they were a year ago, but some advances are likely during the feeding season. The key to corn prices will be the amount of corn sold by the CCC. During the past year this agency sold 2 to 3 million bushels a week, but its stocks are now larger than they were a year ago. There is some talk that CCC will slow its sales of corn after its take-over of the 1954 crop is completed.

Beef Supply. Our beef supply reached an all-time high of 79 pounds per person in 1954. It is about the same this year, and no important change is expected in 1956. Cattle numbers are at an all-time high of 95 million head, but for two years the slaughter of cattle and calves has just about offset the natural increase. Heavy slaughter of cows in 1956 could boost beef supplies considerably above present levels, but that is not expected. There is always the possibility that large marketings of fed cattle will be crowded into some short period and bring on low prices.

Demand. Consumer demand for beef is remarkably strong, and it is expected to hold up well in 1956. Jobs are available for everyone who is able and willing to work, although not always in the places where the workers want them. Automobile production and the building of new homes may slow up in 1956. Moderate cutbacks in these industries may be offset by increased expenditures for (1) consumer services and nondurable goods, (2) new industrial and commercial plants and equipment and (3) roads, schools, etc. Any reduction in federal taxes would help to support consumer buying power. Key points to watch are housing starts, outlays for new plants and equipment, and federal taxes.

Commonwealth-Edison Plans $600-Million Expansion Program

Commonwealth Edison Company has expanded its construction program and now estimates approximately $600,000,000 will be spent for electric property additions during the five year period 1955-1959.

The expanded program was disclosed today with the filing of a registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission in connection with the proposed issuance of additional common stock.

The company announced Monday its plan to offer to holders of its common stock, for subscription, additional common in the ratio of one new share for each 15 shares held. The offering price is to be determined by the board of directors in the basis of market conditions prevailing shortly before the offering.
Proceeds of the stock offering will be used to help finance the company's construction program.

Willis Gale, Edison Chairman, said today the construction schedule for the five years, 1955 through 1959, involves the expenditure of about $277,000,000 for generating facilities, $309-000,000 for transmission and distribution facilities and $14,000-000 for general plant.

"We have scheduled this construction," said Mr. Gale, "to meet the growing electricity requirements of customers in the area served by the Commonwealth Edison Public Service system."

"Population growth, the expansion of industry and commerce and new and expanding uses of electricity, including air conditioning, all have combined to make it prudent for us to raise our sights on the future of the great area we serve."

"The company carries on a continuous construction program, the nature and extent of which are based on current and estimated future loads of the system. The program is subject to continuous review and revision to meet changing conditions."

"Based on our most recent estimates for the years immediately ahead, we are now planning to expand our facilities at a faster rate than was contemplated earlier this year."

"Our 1955 construction expenditures will total about $120-000,000 and we now expect 1956 to be about the same. We estimate 1957 at $135,000,000, 1958 at $125,000,000 and 1959 at $100-000,000."

"Approximately $260,000,000 of the funds required for the five year program, it is estimated, will be provided through the sale of additional securities of which the proposed offering of common stock is a part. The balance would be obtained chiefly from cash resources on hand plus undistributed earnings and depreciation accruals over the five year period."

Commonwealth's electric construction expenditures for 1946 through 1954 aggregated $758-000,000. The $600,000,000 now proand smart to drive safe, goes as follows:

"This is Inattentive Irma."
"She thinks the new cars are just too, too, too."

"Not merely two-tone, but so relaxing to drive."

"For her, 50 years of mechanical progress means nothing except that she can drive with one finger."

"Like other drivers who use 10 percent of the digits, she also has only 10 percent of the gray cells working."

Smart motorists appreciate the features that make the new cars and easier to drive.

But, more important, they realize that the need to give their complete attention to the job of driving is just as great if not greater than ever.

Actually, Irma is no worse than Haphazard Homer, who was detected with his nose in the paper-bound 'Corps Under the Overpass' while doing 60 mph on Edens Expressway.

Thomas Jefferson sold his private library to the government for $23,950.

Sports News

by JACK MAYPOLE

Like Sports?
I'm hoping so for each week I'll be bringing you the latest and best I can deliver in timely sports news.

I don't intend to write about just one sport. I want to write about a lot of 'em. That's so I won't interest just a few people. I can have something for everyone — the outdoorsman, the fisherman, the shooter, the grid or baseball fan, the boating enthusiast, the basketball, to mention just a few.

Right now it's fall. Time to get out into the fields and along the streams and lakes with that trusty shotgun.

For youngsters with 410 gauges and men and women with 20's, 12's and 16's, the call is clear and strong. Leaves have taken to their gaudy autumn dress, and the air is crisp and cool as southward the ducks and geese come awing.

Did you ever bag a great Canadian grey goose? Man, that's sport!

Let's go out to western South Dakota after one.

Before we take off, let's check that shotgun. Get cleaning material and work on the barrel and all moving parts. Make sure it is SAFE.

Get fresh shells, as old powder can make you miss your kill. Consult an authority for the proper loads for the game you seek. Get the clothes you need to be comfortable and a good hot foods container. Then, let's go!

In western South Dakota the big birds come winging down the Missouri river. They like the old Big Muddy because day and night they can ride out in the middle of the river where they can see or sense danger at long range.

At dawn and dusk the geese come to the great open fields where wheat harvest is not long past and lots of prime feed is on the ground. That is the time to try and get them.

It takes plenty of hunter fortitude to get up before dawn, leave that warm car at a good distance, walk well out into an open field and prepare a blind. The chill air makes the grass and chaff frost-crackly. You get wet and dirty grubbing a trench in the dirt, carrying grass and weeds to make a cover. Since you can't make the birds come in when you want them, you may be in for a long cold wait.

Sometimes the wait is useless. The geese are led by cagey old veterans. These always inspect a field before the flock planes down. They have an eagle's eye for spotting something out of normal. If they do away goes the flock and you go home, sadder but more determined than ever to get one of those magnificent birds you have glimpsed sweeping away.

And it is not certain you will get a prize if the geese do light. They set up their own sentry system and at the first sign of a strange movement — wings away.

But if the geese do alight and come within range, that is the time to try and bag one. Remember that at your first movement they'll be off and they are fast for big birds. You can't blast away blindly. You've got to shoot and I mean shoot. A few stray shot aren't going to knock over these big babies. If you meet the birds in a light snowfall they can slide out of the sky like half-seen ghosts, the shooting really puts you on a spot.

If you down your bird I'll promise one thing — you'll get the thrill of your life when you run out and pick up that great grey trophy. And when it comes out of the oven — Mmmmm!

If you can't go after geese don't feel downhearted because all through the Midwest the ducks are on their way. Your neighborhood slough or lake can turn up some prime shooting. Remember one thing. Before you go check your shooting dates, firing times, bag limits and other facts of law before departing.

That's all for now. See me next week and we'll go over another fall sports angle.

Corn Elevator Can Be Dangerous

Corn elevators have taken the backache out of cribbing corn. But at least half a dozen Illinois elevator accidents each year, according to O. L. Hogsett, farm safety specialist at the University of Illinois.

Two of the most dangerous points are the tumbling rods running from the tractor or jack to the elevator and from the elevator to the hoist. Without a shield, they're ready to grab loose clothing or gloves. Once they get a hold, they don't let loose.

Because there are many gears, sprockets and chains that can't be shielded, it's wise to keep children away from the elevator. And, for your own safety, wear close-fitting clothes that won't catch on moving parts.

Hogsett also adds this word of caution: When moving an elevator, watch to make sure it doesn't touch overhead electric wires.

L-W Harriers Beat Sandburg

Cross country running, an ancient sport but a new one in the Southwest Suburban conference, is providing distance runners with opportunity to show their speed and endurance these brisk days.

In a dual competition last Friday between Sandburg and Lincoln-Way, at Sandburg, the Lincoln-Way team was the winner by one point — Sandburg, 28, Lincoln-Way 27.

In golf the winner has the lowest score.

In last Friday's contest each school entered five men, who ran over a course that measured 1.8 miles. Lincoln-Way's Laverne Mark, who traversed the course in 10 minutes and one second, finished first with Mark Schellberg, second, 10.2. Four of Sandburg's team finished third, fourth, fifth and sixth, as follows: Sandburg, 10:05, Piercem 10:20, Gee 10:22 and Barbanac 10:23.

The next three to finish were from Lincoln-Way, Stanley Bruns, 10:30, Terry Barnes, 10:43, and Tom Rowsell, 10:43. The last man to finish was Williams, of Sandburg, in 10:49.

The points are scored in the order in which the runners finish. Thus by running one-two, Lincoln-Way was off to a good start.

Sandburg will send its cross country team to Lincoln-Way this afternoon for revenge.

Rich Defeats Lincoln-Way Eleven, 27-12

SOUTHWEST SUBURBAN

Rich 27, Lincoln-Way 12
Bremen 41, Oak Lawn

Lincoln-Way varsity football team lost to Rich of Park Forest in a South Suburban conference tilt last Friday 27 to 12 after leading the invaders 12 to 7 at the half.

Lincoln-Way's Morris Wade broke loose in each of the first two periods to score on runs of 55 and 52 yards respectively. Rich counted its points in the first half on an 80-yard return of a kick-off, scored by Dick Mason.

In the second half Rich went ahead in the third quarter on a 27-yard pass to Bill Hawkins. Mason counted another TD in fourth, fifth and sixth, as follows: Wade went over from the one-foot line in the fourth period to wind up the visitors' scoring for the day.

Morgan Park Wins

Evergreen Park, another member of the conference played an outside team last week, Morgan Park Military academy, and went down to defeat 20 to 6. It was Morgan Park's first win of the 1955 season.

The first period was scoreless but in the second period the Evergreen quarterback, J. I. Kennedy, flipped a 16-yard pass to Ernie Bob Karlo who was downed on the two-yard line. From there Half Back Jerry Vost lugged the ball over for the Evergreens only touchdown. Try for the extra point missed.

After the kick-off following this score, Morgan Park marched down the field to the two-yard line and from there Charles Scruggs went over for a touchdown and Jerry Krivsky kicked the extra point to put the Warriors in front, 7 to 0.

The Warriors second counter came in the third quarter after another drive carried the ball to the two yard line, from where Ed Madsen went over. Krivsky's kick for the extra point was wide. Madsen scored again in the fourth quarter on a spinner over center that let him thru for 16 yards and paydirt. Krivsky's kick was on the beam for the extra point and the final score was 20 to 6 for Morgan Park.

Breakfast Better For You Than Extra Sleep

If you miss a train you can catch the next one, but that isn't true when you miss breakfast.

Altho the calories you miss in breakfast can be made up in later meals, the other nutrients can't, says Harriet Barto, associate professor of dietetics at the University of Illinois.

Five years' research shows that "breakfast-skippers" harm themselves more than anything else by catching a few extra winks of asleep. Instead of a good breakfast, they are less alert and efficient than people who've had a balanced breakfast.

A mid-morning snack may get you over the hump until lunch. But it won't make up for a poor breakfast. These snacks may fill and satisfy you for a while, but they offer you too little nutritional value.

Women who either eat a skimpy breakfast or skip breakfast entirely are slower in work and reactions and tend to have less steady nerves than women who eat nutritionally good breakfasts. Drinking only coffee has the same effect as no breakfast.

Men studied for breakfast-eating habits showed reactions even more marked than women's. Where women could "last" thru the morning hours, men complained more often of being hungry, and some were dizzy and nauseated after a lot of exercise. These men did more and better work after eating adequate breakfasts.

The idea of losing weight by skipping breakfast will be taken up in the last of the series of articles on breakfast.

Don't wait for the other fellow to dim his lights when you're driving at night. The Chicago Motor Club reminds motorists to dim lights both when approaching other cars from an opposite direction and when overtaking other vehicles from the rear.

The Junior class has selected a firm to supply their class rings. A student ring committee composed of Jo Wennlund, Sue Bogatius, Jane Oram, Rich Bailey and Ron Studnicki met with representatives of several companies to compare prices and quality. The entire class will meet later to decide the style and price of the rings, for delivery in November.

Class rings is one of the subjects uppermost in junior minds these days.

G. A. A.

The G.A.A. members are really hopping! They have a "Playday" coming up soon. Also they have just chosen their sportheads, who are:

Dance Sportheads, Marilyn Cooper, Doris Delaney.

Fall Sportheads, Judy Feil, Christine Duffy.

Winter Sportheads, Jo Wennlund, Diane Sorenson.

Spring Sportheads, Gailyn McCoy, Marie LaVinn.

Recreational Sportheads, Janet Korggaard, Carol Smithson.

The girls have, also launched an archery tournament. Any members of G.A.A. or Girls P.E. have been invited to participate in a modern dance workshop on Nov. 5, at the Rich township high school in Park Forest.

Riding Club Organizes

Monday, Oct. 10 a large group of Lincoln-Way students assembled in the girl's gym to organize a riding club under the direction of Miss Barbara Sprayberry.

The group elected a constitution committee chairman, Sandy Eden, and a nominating committee, Marilyn Boleman, Gailyn McCoy, Becky Spencer, and Elwood Zitter.

It was suggested that a trip be taken to the International Livestock Exposition and Horse show in the latter part of November.

Plans are being made to show films on horses and have the members tell of their experiences with horses at future meetings. The purpose of the club is to stimulate an interest in equestrian sports.

Projectionists Club Meets

The Lincoln-Way student projectionists organization began their regular meetings this week. The board of directors is scheduled to meet during the sixth hour on Monday and the members the second period on Tuesday. Thirty-five students are members of the organization, two of them girls. Twenty-five are beginning apprenticeships this year.

The job of the members is to show films to any classes scheduled to see them and to help with keeping records of the films shown.

The club officers are: Ralph Eisenbrandt, president; John Fish, vice president; Virgil Hammond, secretary; and Cliff Mann, reporter.

Model Club Plans Activities

Forty members of the Model club are meeting regularly planning their activities of the year. A demonstration of the boys' models is to be given at an exhibition to be held on the school grounds. Prizes will be awarded for the best models. The judges are now being chosen.

Room 105 is open every day during the eighth hour for model builders to come in and work. The club owns a trainer plane which is used for the members to learn how to build and fly their own models. The plane is new in the process of being completed by Ed Zitter and Wendell Anderson. Other equipment which the club owns are power tools and carving knives which may be rented for a period of two days by the members.

There are tentative plans for attending model shows away from this area. One of the problems of the club is money. So far about the only method of building up the treasury is through contributions from the members. They plan on having one or two concessions during the year as a means of financing their activities.

The club's officers are: Bill Noble, president; Mark Schelberg, vice president; Gus Fehrenbacher, secretary; and John Weber, treasurer.

Which One Do You Mean?

Twin names seem to be all the rage in Miss Gillogly's fifth hour English III class. Although the class is of average size, there are five sets of twin identification tags: Bill—Noble and Harris; Beverly—Hedge and Jones; Sandy—Zarse and Maurer; Janet—Feil and Filzer; Jim—Dent and Scudella.

Hold everything! We've found a sixth set: Jane—Oram and Gillogly.

FFA Boys Convention

Five FFA boys and their advisor, Robert Van Rheeden, attended the 28th national FFA convention in Kansas City, Missouri, Oct. 10-13.

Jim Hobbs, Harry Johnson, Larry Francis, Dick Batson and Russell Hamilton left with Mr. Van Rheeden at 5:30 a.m. Monday. They arrived in Independence, Missouri at 4:30 p.m. and checked in at the Holiday Inn hotel which was complete with room service and television.

That night they went to the Municipal Auditorium in Kansas City, the center of all the activities to follow and view the national FFA speaking contest.

Boys from 48 states, Alaska and Hawaii heard speeches by men who have achieved great heights in the agricultural world. They were entertained by Eddie Fisher, Debbie Reynolds and other well known personalities.

Student Council

Four Lincoln-Way students were representatives to the Conference Student Council meeting at Evergreen Park on Oct. 12. The representatives were Jim Cooper, Ted Dunham, Bev Lauffer, and Beverly Jones. The sponsors who attended were Dr. Wright and Mrs. Gorman. After a tour of the school and dinner, each representative was sent to one of the four discussion groups. The questions discussed were: What is the purpose of the student council? What should the relationship between student council and faculty be? and how can it be improved? How can we get the student body more interested in student council? and how much power should the student council have? At the close of the discussions, the representatives met for a summary of the discussions and a business meeting. All from Lincoln-Way had a very enjoyable and interesting time. The next conference student council meeting will be held in January.

Mr. Krusemark Addresses Class

Albert Krusemark was a guest speaker last Friday before the senior common learning class. He was asked to speak to them on divorce. The class has been studying family living as the first nine weeks' block of their year's study.

Mr. Krusemark discussed some of the reasons for divorce such as hasty marriages and financial difficulties. Statistics show that 40 per cent of all cases filed in the local courts are divorce cases.

F. B. L. A.

Freshman Officers Elected

The new freshman class officers were announced Friday. They are: Norma Heidrich, president; Elaine Hermann, vice-president; Geri Hull, secretary; David Donaldson, treasurer; and John Boyson, parliamentarian.

Each publication of this newspaper will have a section devoted wholly to math. The Lincoln-Way High School Math club is sponsoring this article and we hope you will enjoy working these problems in your leisure hours. In our next write-up we are going to launch a yearly contest. That is, at the end of the school year, a winner will be chosen according to the quantity and quality of his solutions. If we can think them up, you should be able to solve them!

Calls Tubalcain Father of Tool Engineering

Tubalcain, son of Lamech and grandson of Methuselah, has been identified as the father of tool engineering and tool engineering education in a 16-page, illustrated booklet entitled "The First Tool Engineer". The booklet has just been released by and is available from the American Society of Tool Engineers, 10700 Puritan avenue, Detroit 38, Michigan.

The booklet quotes references from the Old Testament to support its contention that it was Tubalcain, an eighth generation descendant of Adam, who first conceived the idea that "production was the key to survival" of the human race. Initial production under his direction concentrated on weapons for hunting. Tubalcain developed the methods completely from forging to finish grinding. Slave mechanics were acquired and trained but the entire family was also taught the production methods thru demonstration lecture.

When the critical shortage of weapons had been changed to a

Civil Defense Experts Forsee Warning Signals in U. S. Homes

Engineers working with the Federal Civil Defense Administration now are convinced that within the next few years, 99 percent of American homes can be equipped with a warning signal to alert families of enemy attack or a civil defense emergency.

Research funds for a home-warning system were made available for the first time under the current FCDA budget, although studies in this field have been under way almost from the time civil defense was first organized. FCDA's warning and communications office has long recognized that the present system of siren warnings is not completely adequate in that it cannot reach all areas and that the sirens are not always audible to many people who are indoors.

Since the goal is to alert 100 percent of the population in times of possible danger, it is accepted that an indoor signal must be developed which will supplement the outdoor sirens, or warnings broadcast by radio.

Other Uses Too
FCDA does not envision the indoor signal system as supplanting other warning methods. Instead it is thinking along the lines of a signal to call attention to the possibility of impending danger and to make sure that everyone gets the information which is being transmitted by radio or other means. Obviously such a system would have a value beyond its use in event of enemy attack. It could be used to alert the public in time of immediate danger and send those at home to their radios where they would hear bulletins and receive instructions. Tentative plans are under way in one western community for a test of one type of home signal. Sponsors of this particular test originally conceived it for use as a warning against tornado danger but are now revising their plans to incorporate the device into the civil defense program.

Preliminary studies on the feasibility of indoor warning devices were made earlier this year by the engineering research institute of the University of Michigan, under a contract with the advisory committee on civil defense of the national academy of sciences and the National Research Council.

Many Devices Suggested
These studies included various types of warning devices, using electric power lines, telephones and radio. More than 100 such devices have been suggested within the last three years—even one that would use water supply lines and by varying the pressure create a pulse which would activate an alarm.

For the most part, these suggestions fall into two categories. Either they work well but are too costly, or they could be produced cheaply enough for mass acceptance, but have not proved entirely workable.

The Michigan study concluded that a system could be developed that would warn more than 99 percent of the people in any target area, at a moderate cost. It suggested that the plan of using electric power lines was the best of the systems suggested and that such a system was technically possible. The study pointed out that factors other than technical or economic will enter into the feasibility and effectiveness of any warning system and suggested that a large scale test should be made.

Plan Tests
The home signal device would be priced under $10, and would use a negligible amount of electrical power. One of these devices has been successfully tested on a small scale.

Now that funds have been made available to FCDA for research on this project, it has been given top priority rating. It is hoped that research and preparations can be completed during the present fiscal year and that during the next fiscal year full scale tests can be completed in a number of large cities. If these tests prove satisfactory, home warning systems can then be made available throughout the nation.

By reaching families in suburban and rural areas—now beyond the range of sirens—the home warning devices would make the Civil Defense warning system almost 100 percent effective.

'Revenoores' Act To Deactivate Souvenir Guns

The internal revenue service has announced a final drive and certain new procedures to be used in the war trophy firearms deactivation program. Hereafter, firearms which have been deactivated under the provisions of the National Firearms act, will be known as DEWATs (deactivated war trophy) and will be classified as harmless ordnance curios rather than unserviceable firearms. Heretofore, a deactivated war trophy firearm has been considered in the category of an "unserviceable" firearm requiring notification on Form 5 (Firearms) for each transfer. The new provisions will make notification of transfer unnecessary.

Any person possessing a firearm as defined in section 5848 of the internal revenue code, in the war trophy class (such as machine guns or sub-machine guns), who chooses to have such firearm transformed to a DEWAT or destroyed in lieu of transforming it into a DEWAT or anyone desiring other information with respect to firearms should contact the nearest alcohol and tobacco tax office.

If government facilities are available to perform deactivation, such will be rendered as a public service. A firearm is considered to have been rendered unserviceable when the chamber of the firearm has been steel welded shut and the barrel has been welded solidly to the frame or receiver.

Under Section 5821 of the internal revenue code, a tax is levied upon the making of a firearm (as defined in section 5848, internal revenue code,) whether by manufacture, putting together, alteration, or combination thereof, or otherwise. Thus, any person who restores a DEWAT to a firing condition incurs criminal and civil (tax) liabilities for violation of the National Firearms act.

Illinois Nurses To Hold Regional Meeting at Aurora

Registered professional nurses and student nurses from this area will attend a regional meeting of the Illinois State Nurses' Association at the Leland Hotel in Aurora tomorrow and Saturday.

The Aurora meeting is the fourth in a series of five to be held on a regional basis throughout Illinois this fall. The last meeting, scheduled for Chicago, will serve nurses in Cook, DuPage and Lake counties. Previous meetings were held in Bloomington, Mount Vernon and Peoria.

"The regional meetings, which will replace the ISNA state convention this year, are an innovation," explained Frances L. A. Powell, R.N., Chicago, president of the association. "ISNA will bring the association to the nurses—where they work, live and participate in organization affairs."

"Through this series every member of ISNA will have an opportunity to attend a meeting in a city reasonably close to her home. She will have a chance to 'talk things over' with other nurses who share the same problems and to learn about the activities of her professional organization."

The meetings are open to all registered professional nurses and student nurses. Membership in the Illinois State Nurses' Association is not required in order to register for attendance. The registration desk will be open from 1:00 to 2:00 p.m. on Friday and from 8:00 to 9:00 a.m. on Saturday. All times are Central Daylight.

Nurses To Hold Convention In November

The Illinois League for Nursing will hold its second biennial convention at the LaSalle hotel in Chicago on Nov. 3-4 with "Health is Everybody's Job" as the theme. Program sessions will be open to the public at a small registration fee, $1 per session. This organization is composed of professional nurses, practical nurses, men and women in varied professions, and laymen who are interested in nursing education and nursing services. ILN is a constituent of the National League for Nursing, which was founded in 1952 by the fusing of three organizations and four committees in operation since 1893; National League for Nursing, (1893), National Organization for Public Health Nursing, (1912), Association of Collegiate Schools of Nursing (1933), Joint committee on practical nursing and auxiliary workers in nursing services (1945), joint committee on careers in nursing (1948), national committee for the improvement of Nursing Services (1949), and the National Nursing Accrediting Services, (1949).

Miss Mildred Lorentz, R. N., retiring president of ILN, pointed out that emphasis in the Illinois league has been on building understanding, meeting community needs, and furthering the constructive interests of professionals, auxiliary workers, and the receivers of nursing services.

To Aid in Serving Mental Patients

The volunteer service program at Manteo State Hospital, will hold its next orientation and training classes for volunteers Oct. 26, from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. A similar class was held yesterday.

Individuals who are interested in serving the mental patients as volunteers are urgently needed, it was said. Mrs. Otto Danek, 449 W. 61st Place, EN. 4-5478 Third District Mental Health chairman will furnish additional information.

Can Make Wine For Family - But Best Have Permit
The grape harvest season is at hand, and William N. Woodruff, assistant regional commissioner, alcohol and tobacco tax, for the Chicago region, wishes to inform prospective wine makers that altho the head of a family may produce two hundred gallons of wine per year taxfree for the use of his immediate family, he must first register his intention to produce such wine with the alcohol and tobacco tax division of the internal revenue service.

The prospective wine maker must secure forms for this purpose from the supervisor in charge, Chicago branch office of the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, 17th Floor, 17 N. Dearborn st., Chicago 2, Ill. These forms must be submitted to the above office, in duplicate, at least five days before the production of wine is started. If the applicant is qualified one copy of the form will be returned as an authorization to produce not more than two hundred gallons of wine during the twelve month period from July 1 thru June 30. A new form must be filed for each year in which it is desired to produce such wine.

Mr. Woodruff warns that the exemption given under federal law for the production of tax-free wine is solely for family use and does not apply to an unmarried person, unless he qualifies as head of a family, or a married man living apart from his family or to the production of wine by corporations or partnerships for commercial purposes. Each year a number of persons who have made wine for family use are taxed at the regular rate, according to the alcoholic content, and may face criminal prosecution for the reason that they fail to register their intention to produce wine.

Salvage--Not Scrap, State's New Policy

"Illinois can conduct its inventory and property disposal problems on a business like basis, instead of allowing surplus property to rust away or go for grabs as scrap," State Auditor Orville E. Hodge stated today in reviewing plans to liquidate the coal products commission plant in Chicago.

The plant was built in 1951 to find new uses and by-products for Illinois coal. The project was dropped two years ago and the plant has seen little use since.

Liquidation of the plant is the first major test of the State's new surplus property control act adopted by the 1955 legislature.

Under this new act, all of the 175 state agencies make available thru the State Auditor, their surplus or worn out equipment for transfer to other departments or for an orderly disposal by sale thru bids. Previous to Hodge's efforts for such requirements, surplus property was in some cases stored by the various departments, tying up materials that would have to be bought by other departments at current market prices. Operation of the new property act has saved the state thousands of dollars since it was initiated, Hodge said.

Original plans to sell the coal products plant as scrap was discarded by Hodge after it was estimated that only about $10,000 would be realized. Original equipment cost was said to have been $275,000. The equipment ranges from pipes and fittings to custom built controls and steam boilers and was made available to other agencies. The state's geological survey at the University of Illinois and the state teacher's colleges will receive all transferable property from the plant. A scrap sale will be held later to dispose of unusable property.

Mayors of two dozen Chicago area cities, and multitudes of plain citizens will be invited this week by officials of the Cal-Sag commencement committee to witness the gala groundbreaking ceremonies Nov. 2 starting the $4,000,000 widening and improvement of the Cal-Sag channel.

Co-Chairmen Henry Crown of Material Service Corp. and John W. Evers, President of Commonwealth Edison Co., who are heading up the committee of business and civic leaders planning the launching of work festivities on the Cal-Sag, have invited the mayors of cities and towns surrounding Chicago to join with Honorable Richard J. Daley, Chicago's mayor, at the rites Nov. 2.

The public is being urged to attend the function, which is planned for 2:30 p.m. at a location at the west end of the Cal-Sag channel.

The exact groundbreaking site, where speakers' stand and grandstands are being constructed, is two blocks east of Highway 83 at Old Archer Avenue bridge (Route 4A), near Lemont.

A giant maritime parade of power boats and barges will highlight the commencement program, according to Co-Chairmen Crown and Evers.

They described the waterborne parade as more than a mile and a quarter long, and will be an exhibit of channel and river carriers, tugs and other water craft that carry cargoes to and from the South Chicago industrial area by way of the narrow inland waterway known as the Cal-Sag channel.

The parade will point up restrictions of the present Calumet-Sag channel. Diesel powered boats, 80 to 100 feet long, will push the 195 foot barges - whose 35 foot width will not allow another oncoming vessel to pass. The channel is 60 feet wide, and is to be widened to 225 feet to allow a passage of larger tows to traffic the Cal-Sag.

"According to the Corps of Army Engineers, this is one justification of the Cal-Sag project—an expected increase within the first five years of operation from a present 3.5 million tons of cargo handled, to 8 million tons. It is expected that this tonnage will gradually increase as the Cal-Sag attracts more and more competitive transportation, to 18 million tons within the first 25 years of its operation.

Another phase of the maneuver will emphasize an additional restriction of the Cal-Sag: the low bridges that dot the 16-mile long channel from Blue Island westward to Sag Junction. All of the power boats must have telescopic pilot houses, Thompson explained, made necessary by the low bridge clearances.

Channel improvement work, in addition to widening, will include bridge reconstruction serving railroads, trucks and automobiles.

The list of mayors and village presidents who will serve on the "LITTLE BILL" says:

"I run these electric helpers for just pennies!"

For less than 1/2¢ electricity will fry 6 eggs and 6 strips of bacon, too, in your new electric frying pan.

Roast chicken—that's crisp and brown all over and tender and delicious inside. Cooked in an electric roaster for 6¢.

Costs only a penny—to let electricity whip up 12 cakes for you. And electric mixers blend the batter better and quicker.

How Public Service Company keeps your electric bill down (while everything else goes up)

Just as your cost of living has doubled, so have many of our costs.

For example, some of our electric poles now cost almost 3 times as much as they did 25 years ago. Ordinary underground cable now is twice as much. And weather-proofed copper wire—almost triple.

Increases in cost have been more than offset through economies in the actual production of power. In fact electricity now costs less per kilowatt-hour than it did in 1930.

So today, although you're using far more work-saving electricity than 25 years ago, you're getting a lot more for your money—almost twice as much, in fact.

Fall Pig Crop Up in Nation, Report Shows

Down on the farm they have built a new addition to the maternity ward. The stork worked 24 hours a day during August and September, dropping off a bundle from somewhere every two seconds. Each bundle contained 6 to 10 squirming piglets—in pink, red, black and two-tone color jobs.

Old Dock Stork himself has been too busy to add up the total number of pigs he has delivered, but Uncle Sam has been getting some information from farmers. He has come up with some important new facts about current and prospective trends in hog production and pork supplies.

According to reports to Uncle Sam, the 1955 fall pig crop will be the largest on record except for two years during World War II. Prospective supplies of pork available for each person, however, may fall short of the 71 pounds per year that we ate in 1951 and 1952.

New reports are available for nine midwest states from last June 1 through next February. These nine states—Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Ohio, Missouri, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and South Dakota—usually produce about two-thirds of the nation's pork.

Sow farrowings in the nine states during the June-August quarter were 11 percent greater than they were one year before. Expected farrowings for the September-November quarter are up 15 percent over last year. But for November farmers tell a different story. They say that they intend to cut farrowings during the December-February quarter 2 percent below those of a year earlier.

In official tabulation, all pigs born during the first two quarters mentioned, June-August and September-November, are counted as fall pigs. Pigs born during December-February are included with the spring pig crop.

The number of sows farrowing in the nine states during the fall season—June-November will be around 12 percent larger than last year. The actual number of pigs saved will probably show about the same increase. If, as seems likely, the other states show a similar increase in hog production, the 1955 U. S. fall pig crop will exceed 41 million head. This number is 12 percent greater than last year and 3 percent larger than the previous peacetime record fall pig crop of 1951.

The total supply of pork in prospect may be a record for peacetime years, but the supply per person will likely fall short of the postwar high of 72 pounds in 1952.

After reaching 72 pounds per person in 1952, the supply dropped to only 60 pounds in 1954. While the per capita supply of pork shrank by 12 pounds, the supply of beef and veal increased by 20 pounds. Thus the supply of beef and veal increased much more than enough to offset the decrease in pork, and very few consumers even noticed the change.

Pork supplies began to increase about a year ago. The supply for this year is estimated at 66 to 67 pounds per person, about the same as the average since World War II. The supply for next year will likely be around 69 pounds per person. Prices of both hogs and pork have been cut below year-ago levels in order to move the larger supplies. Additional moderate price reductions are likely during the next 60 days, but the winter should bring a little improvement if farmers do not flood the market with heavy hogs. Top prices seem likely to range between $14 and $20 during most of the next 12 months.

progress being made in the field of personnel services in the state of Illinois. He pointed out, however, that industry, business, religious organizations, and other private agencies are providing similar services in an increasing degree and are attracting many well-trained people away from the public schools.

Among the other highlights of the conference were discussion groups where the Lincoln-Way representatives had a chance to share their experiences with representatives of other schools.

The conference next year will be held at the University of Illinois.

Better Get Your Tomatoes Before Jack Frost Does

A light frost may nip your green tomatoes one of these days so bring them indoors to ripen before frosts, says N. F. Oebker, University of Illinois assistant professor of horticulture.

For the best tasting tomatoes, pick only sound, well-matured (but not ripe) tomatoes off good quality vines. Store them in a shallow tray, or similar container, at about 65 degrees. Keep them in indirect light until they are ripe, and then put them in the refrigerator until you're ready to serve them.

Don't ripen them in direct sunlight. This false idea results in "splochy" tomatoes. On the other hand, don't put them in the refrigerator to ripen, because this stops them from ripening and they become watery.

Also store in a relatively moist place. This keeps them from drying out so much. After ripening these green tomatoes, let your imagination go and serve them to your family in slightly different ways. Finely minced onion adds zest to broiled tomatoes. Grated cheddar or parmesan cheese is a good topper too. You can also halve them and top with buttered bread, cracker crumbs or cereal flakes before broiling.

Necessary for a good bathroom are quality equipment, correct installation, and wise planning for the utmost convenience. Suggestions on how to plan bathrooms and powder rooms are offered in a booklet "Modern Bathroom Plans" published by the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau, 35 East Wacker Drive, Chicago 1, Illinois. A total of 34 plans for bathrooms and powder rooms are shown.

How to Win

NOBODY can be tempted to do what he can't do. Nobody can be tempted to do what he doesn't want to do. Of course somebody can say to you, "Do this," but if you can't or don't want to do it, the words are only words in your ear, they are no temptation, and you can't be said to have "resisted" what did not appeal to you at all. Furthermore, nearly always temptation means the pull of desire, not for something evil in itself but only a good out of place, or a lesser good in place of a possible greater. If a child takes the money he was going to put into Sunday school and spends it for candy on Saturday night, that does not mean that candy is bad in itself, or that eating it is a sin. But the child is tempted to a lesser good when a greater good was possible.

Questions About Temptation

The higher in the scale of life you go, the more this is true. Persons who live on a low level may easily be tempted to gross sins, because they don't have any strong desire for good, or to do good. Persons who live on a high level are much more likely to be tempted with good than with evil, for they habitually desire good. The temptation consists in seeing the lesser good so clearly that one forgets to look around and see the greater good. Now the temptations of Jesus were of this sort. There is no evidence that he ever felt an urge or even a slight inclination to do what is wrong in itself. There is evidence that he was tempted to do some good things that were not the best things. Take Luke's story of the temptations in the wilderness. One was to turn stones into bread—surely no sin? In a hungry world, to produce more bread would be a good thing. Another temptation was to get control of the kingdoms of the world. Was that not what he came to do? Or the third temptation again,—to trust in the protecting care of God: who would call that a sin? Yet each of these, under the circumstances and conditions, was not the right thing for Jesus, because not the best thing; and so he knew all these for what they were—temptations of Satan. We can ask many questions about temptation: where it comes from, what kind of persons are tempted, how to recognize it, and so on. But the question most of us want to know is, How can I win?

How to Lose

There are two sure ways of losing the fight against temptation, whether in its lower or its higher forms. One is by sheer resistance, just saying No. If your temptation is liquor, for instance, it won't do you a particle of good to stand in front of a tavern door or to sit in a chair with a glass in your hand, just shutting your eyes and shaking your head and saying "No, I won't." Because, before long, you will. Mere stubbornness will go a long way; but not even Jesus tried to meet temptation with a simple empty No. Another way to lose your fight is to debate the question. In the vivid story of the first temptation (see Genesis 3) the serpent just gets Eve's mind to thinking about how fine that fruit was.

The Sword of Spirit

Every Bible reader knows how Jesus won his victory over temptations: by using the "sword of the Spirit," the Word of God. But there is a right and a wrong way to use a sword. There are two ways of using the Bible as a defense against Satan. One of these ways works, the other does not. It will not do simply to quote the Bible. The Bible is not a sort of magic wand which you just wave in Satan's face will make him go away. Just repeating Bible verses is not enough. The only Scripture which is any good in temptation's struggles is Scripture which you have first "hid in your heart," that is to say committed to memory, and what is more important, Scripture which has become part of you. It is not quite enough to say, "God says —" Take the next step: "God says—and I believe it." You've got to make God's word your own, not just with the top of your mind but down to the bottom of your heart. So believed, the Word becomes life invincible.

Everyone can Choose "Wallpaper" To Match Own Life, says Author

By Rev. Joseph Mantion (Paulist Feature Service)

If you are decorating your own home, and the need for wallpaper is indicated, selecting the kind can be an eye-sparking adventure. Choose the right gay pattern and you have a perpetual banquet laid out for the eye, a stimulating climate for the soul.

Look at the choice of colors—all the way from lemon to lavender, from prize-fighters-eye purple to dandruff off-white. If you like motion, you can have swans poising their necks like white periscopes over the lake. At dinner you can eat your hamburger within a blazing rose-garden, then move into the living room and watch television surrounded by Japanese pagodas and temple bells.

There may be one drawback. Few of us have the roll of money we would need to get exactly the rolls of wallpaper we would like. Anyway, there's something far more important and far easier.

For, if we cannot always choose the wallpaper for our living room, we can always choose the wallpaper for our life. We can surround ourselves with high, clean thoughts, with noble principles, with a wholesome, Christ-like attitude.

I know this sounds foggy and vague, but by way of contrast, picture and pity the man, for example, whose life is hedged about by the jungle green of jealousy. He lives in a negative world of sour wishes. He spends hours brooding how other men get ahead, fiercely wishing he could drag them back.

There are other people, dreary, teary people, who seem to favor, when it comes to a color, solid unbroken black, sometimes set off by a nice depressing border of the blues. Well, let's be fair about it. Life has dealt them a hard blow. So it does to many of us. But if we cannot change the situation, the wall, we can at least change the wallpaper, our attitude toward it.

Don't you know that sadness is the devil's greatest weapon? He knows that the heart that loves God like a fire roaring in the grate, so naturally he is always ready to drop a sopping wet blanket of gloom over it. So, choose your own wallpaper, at least in the house of your heart! Hang it with the symbols of Christian faith and hope and kindness and holy joy! And notice how happier you will become.

Motor Vehicle Registration in Illinois Is Up

Motor vehicle registration at the three-quarter mark of 1955 is 122,952 greater than for all of last year, Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter announced today.

At the end of September, the total registration was 3,323,428, or 180,908 more than at the same time of year in 1954. Mr. Carpenter said. For the two nine-month periods, the figures represent a 5.76 per cent increase, he said.
